Parnell's Revised Government Plan Having Hard Time

House Substitutes Its Own Measure and Sends It to the Senate

BILLS DIFFER MUCH

Clark Plan Would Consolidate Bureaus Without Constitutional Action

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—The goal that Governor Parnell has set for his present term—a reorganization of the state government—may be accomplished at this legislative session but the prospects that it will be along the lines desired by the executive have dimmed.

Already the house has approved a rival plan and sent it to the senate after subjecting the governor's proposal to a fierce attack.

What the senate will do with the one from the house, the Clark reorganization bill, widely advertised as a rival of the governor's, remains to be seen. The governor is conceded to have more strength in the senate than in the house. But defeat of the Clark bill there still would leave the reorganization question unsettled.

Clark Bill Passes

The Clark bill passed the house overwhelmingly during the past week, gaining strong support from the administration camp.

Governor Parnell's plan, embodied in measure H. R. 11,400, is based on recommendations of the Bureau of Municipal Research of New York which made an extended survey of the Arkansas state government.

To carry out this plan, however, adoption of a constitutional amendment at the 1932 general election would be necessary.

One of the main arguments used in favor of the Clark bill was that it would effect immediate savings in the operation of the government, whereas the governor's program could not go into effect until January, 1933.

The governor's plan called for abolition of all constitutional offices except governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general and auditor. All other offices would be appointive by the governor. It was also attacked by house opponents as undemocratic and vesting too much power in the Three of the bodies were mangled beyond recognition, including one of the women. The other woman died on the way to a hospital.

Finest Exhibit of Country Housed in Library at Farmington

FARMINGTON, Conn.—(AP)—The work of one man for nearly half a century is represented in the collection of American birds' eggs, considered one of the finest in the country, and now a permanent exhibit of the Farmington Library.

More than 843 species and 8,000 eggs, gathered in Connecticut and other New England states by Harry Curtis Mills, of Milford, constitute the assortment which has at various times been sought by the Field Museum of Chicago and Yale University.

Gandhi Gives Defi to Overlords of India

Native Leader Declares Offer of Dominion Status Is Not Enough—British Labor Government More Disposed to Conciliation Than Churchill and Conservatives

ALLAHABAD, India.—(AP)—Prospects for the settlement of the Indian question on the basis of Ramsay MacDonald's offer of dominion status with reservations, are hopeless. Mahatma Gandhi told the Associated Press in an interview Saturday.

"There is no hope of settlement," said Gandhi, "unless more is offered than is contained in the prime minister's declaration."

The British premier in a special message two weeks ago offered India autonomy in the same fashion enjoyed by Canada, Australia, and other imperial dominions. He also agreed to complete separation of India from Burma.

Following this pronouncement, arrangements were made by the British Indian authorities to release Mahatma Gandhi, famous apostle of "passive resistance" who had been in jail for a year. Gandhi was freed last week, without any obligation to the government.

It was hoped by the British labor government in London that Mr. MacDonald's offer of autonomy coupled with the release of Gandhi, would prove conciliatory in the difficult situation confronting the British in India. Gandhi remains determined, however, to make India independent.

In London, the MacDonald government is under constant attack by Winston Churchill and other prominent Conservatives who fear grave consequences as a result of the labor government's conciliatory policies in the rebellious province.

Merchants Group Is Complimented

Hope Association Draws Letter of Praise From Another City

The appreciation of a merchant in another city for the Hope Retail Merchants' association, who recommends it to the home merchant, is expressed in the following letter just received by George W. Robinson, president of the local association, from Edgar Howell & Co., of Texarkana.

"Dear Sir: During the past few months I have had dealings with the Retail Merchants' association of your city and wish to compliment you and your secretary, on the efficient and prompt manner in which my accounts were handled.

"A credit association, efficiently handled, is a great aid to the merchants of any city. I understand your association has only been in operation about one year. It may seem that it has been of little value to the merchants for this one year, but they will find, if they give their support and co-operation, it will increase in value to them with each succeeding year and will save them many times the amount of their dues, in lost accounts. From my own experience, I would feel less trying to do business in a town without a credit association to refer to.

"I sincerely hope the merchants of Hope will not make the mistake of withdrawing their support from their credit association just at the time it will become of the most value to them. Sincerely yours, EDGAR HOWELL, dealer in haberdashery and men's clothes, was unsolicited, and was well received by the local association board and the secretary, J. C. Carlton.

World Travel Bill Seven and a Half Billion

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The world travel bill for 1930 was approximately $7,500,000,000 and two-thirds of this amount, or $5,000,000,000, was spent by Americans at home and abroad and visitors to this country.

This estimate has been made by the American Automobile Association on the basis of a preliminary study of travel figures for the year.

Other figures and facts made public by the Association in connection with world travel were:

1. Close to $325,000,000 was spent during 1930 by Americans entering Canada in more than 5,000,000 automobiles.

2. The Passion Play at Oberammergau, Germany, and the pilgrimage of Gold Star mothers to France greatly increased American travel abroad, there being considerably more than 300,000 Americans to make the trip.

Bishop Cannon's Trial Continues

12 Elders Will Not Finish Secret Hearing Before Next Week

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The twelve elders who are hearing charges against Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, continued to receive testimony in the bishop's defense Saturday, with reports coming out of the secret session indicating that the investigation will last all of next week.

Besides answering each of 48 charges Bishop Cannon has introduced much documentary evidence, some designed to refute charges and some in the form of assurances of his good character, the Associated Press learned indirectly from the secret session.

Meningitis Breaks Out Among Labor

200 Scattered Men Feared Infected From Brandywine Island

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Dr. W. C. Garrison, state health officer, was notified Saturday that 200 laborers from the government labor camp on Brandywine island in the Mississippi near Memphis had been discharged and "scattered to the four winds" after being exposed to three cases of meningitis in camp.

Dr. Garrison said his information came from Dr. E. L. Bishop, state health officer for Tennessee. Dr. Garrison issued orders for state health officers to quarantine such laborers if found, until the danger had passed.

Ohio Town Faces Many Dark Nights

Half County Budget Has Been Spent With Ten Months Left in Year

SEBRING, Ohio.—(AP)—The White Way has been darkened, the police force has been reduced to one man and residents are paying sewage charges as Schering struggles in the slough of financial despair.

One-half of the $860 which the MacIntosh County Budget Commission says Schering may receive this year, has already been spent and the town of 3,950 population is wondering what it will use for money during the next ten months.

Schering city fathers were told by the commission that all—save $860—of the 1931 taxation revenues must pay off sinking fund charges. "The White Way" in the business district has been dark for weeks and a similar action seems likely in residential sections.

The police force has been pared until Marshal Charles Baumgartner is the lone survivor. Citizens are paying rentals in order to maintain the sewage systems and residents and officials alike are in a dilemma as to what—if anything—to do next.

If law violators are as faithful in paying fines this year as last, $3,000 may be realized as a asset. But the police force, in particular, is not optimistic.

U. S. Loans Applied For in Hempstead Climb to $12,724

Second Group of Applications Forwarded to Memphis Office Friday

TOTAL TO DATE IS 58

Drouth Relief Committee Finishes First Week of Loan Hearings

Federal crop loan applications certified to the Memphis loan bureau by the Hempstead County Drouth Relief Committee reached a total of $12,724 Friday when the second group of applications was forwarded from Hope, it was announced Saturday by Chairman W. Y. Foster.

The total number of approved applications to date is 58, for an average of $220 apiece.

There were 26 applications in the group forwarded Friday, in the amount of $5,207. The Drouth Relief Committee forwarded the first batch Wednesday, 32 in the total amount of $7,517.

Applications are being received by the six sub-committees representing the various townships, and must be passed upon by the local committee for the district where the farmer resides before being submitted to the county committee, whose decision is final on loan issues.

The main county committee is headed by Mr. Foster, the other two members being H. M. Stephens, of Bleivins, and J. Ford Johnson, of Columbus.

Legislative Sidelights

By HENRY N. DORRIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Farm relief, governmental reorganization, highways and a little impeachment, talk held the spotlight in the legislature the past week.

The impeachment talk did not get beyond the talking stage, except in the senate where a resolution asking the house to investigate a long list of accusations against Governor Parnell was voted down overwhelmingly. Only the author, Senator Quarles, voted for it.

The impeachment talk in the house centered about the highway department, one member, Johnston of Johnson, remarking during a heated debate on a highway audit that a house committee now investigating the status of improvement district road bonds assumed by the state might find something that would lead to impeachment efforts against a highway commissioner, Justin Matthews, and Governor Parnell.

Farm Bill Completed
One piece of farm relief legislation was completed in both houses—that by Rep. Toland and Senator Mitchell, authorizing a bond issue of $1,500,000 for capital stock of agricultural credit corporations to make possible loans from the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank to drouth-stricken farmers.

The senate turned thumbs down on another house farm relief proposal, that of Rep. Fleming providing for a $15,000,000 bond issue to provide loans to farmers.

Governmental reorganization was started by passage by the house of a bill by Clark of Grant which would consolidate various state departments. It was considered a rival of the reorganization plan sponsored by Governor Parnell, which was bitterly assailed in the house and at one time referred to at a committee hearing as "a Mussolini" bill.

The Clark bill would accomplish the entire reorganization without constitutional changes, as the governor's proposal would require.

Provide Road Audit

The house took definite steps toward a highway audit, an issue in the last campaign. It adopted a resolution providing for introduction of a bill containing the names of seven prominent men, one from each congressional district, to comprise an audit board and arrange for a highway audit. The bill is being drafted and probably will be introduced Monday. It was during discussion of this that the impeachment talk drifted into the house proceedings.

As they passed the truck driven by Ware there was a slight collision. In looking back to see what damage if any, he had done Carleton lost control of his truck and crashed into a bridge.

Jim Carleton was rushed to a local hospital in Hope where it has been reported he is in a serious condition. The truck was badly damaged.

Receiver Petition For Bank Is Lost

Chancellor Johnson Rules, However, Banking Act Is Not Exclusive

Pition for a receiver for the closed Arkansas Bank & Trust Co. to replace the liquidating agent appointed by the state bank commissioner was denied late Friday by Chancellor C. E. Johnson in a recess hearing of Hempstead chancery court.

Although Chancellor Johnson rejected the suit brought by attorneys for a group of depositors, he held that appointment of a receiver for a closed bank is possible under Arkansas law. The Chancellor supported the legal contention raised by the suit, namely, that the authority of the state bank commissioner is not exclusive.

His opinion declared that a receiver might be appointed only after charges of mismanagement had been and then only in the event that the depositors had sought to have suit brought by the state bank commissioner and had been by him refused.

Evidence was not introduced at the hearing before Chancellor Johnson, but depositors' attorneys said no suit had been requested of the state bank they lost receivership action in the local court.

There was an announcement of an appeal to the Arkansas Supreme Court. Attorneys said they would wait on the decision of the depositories' committee for whom they are acting.

The attorneys for the depositors are, U. A. Gentry, of Hope, and Charles T. Coleman, of Little Rock.

Negro With Advanced Case Is Detained at Pine Bluff

PINE BLUFF.—(AP)—The hobo travels of Oscar Johnson, negro, during the last ten days, became a matter of concern for health authorities in South Arkansas Saturday after the discovery that Johnson is in a hobo camp here with an advanced case of smallpox.

Dr. George A. Hays, county health officer, immediately isolated and quarantined Johnson, notifying the State Health Department.

In camp with the negro were 27 other men.

Johnson told Dr. Hays he slept in a flop-house in Texarkana a few nights ago with about 150 persons. Dr. Hays said Johnson's case was a week old.

Mexican Exhibit Tours U. S. Cities

Display Is Brought Here Through Efforts of Senator Morrow

PITTSBURGH.—(AP)—The exhibition of Mexican applied art, which comes to Pittsburgh this month, is an instance of the world of art being called upon to serve in a diplomatic capacity.

The exhibit, embracing every branch of applied art in Mexico, was suggested by former Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow when he was bringing to the harmonious relationship now existing between the United States and Mexico.

At Ambassador Morrow's suggestion, Homer Saint-Gaudens, director of Fine Arts of the Carnegie Institute, undertook the selection of the exhibit from the various parts of Mexico. The Carnegie Corporation underwrote the expenses of the exhibit.

The various objects of Mexican art, showing the application of the principles of beauty and harmony to the household life of the country, were gathered together for the first exhibition in Mexico City, June 15, 1930.

The premiere of the exhibit was assured of success for it was under the auspices of the Mexican government.

The collection came to this country in October and was displayed first in the Metropolitan Museum in New York. It was the first representative display of applied art to be sent to America from Mexico, according to Carnegie Institute officials.

From New York the exhibition went to Boston. Pittsburgh is the third city in which it is to be displayed.

Other cities which will entertain the exhibit during its "good will tour" are in Cleveland, Washington, Milwaukee, St. Louis, and San Antonio.

Dies Year After Pension Award

AUBURN, Neb.—(AP)—Perry Whitlow, 85, went to war for his father. He received his first Civil War pension just last year. Now he's dead.

When his father was called to arms in the sixties to fight in the Union army, Perry, the eldest son, assumed his father's name and went to the front. The father stayed home to support a wife and family of small children.

After the war, the elder Whitlow drew the pension without protest. After his father's death he began a long fight to have the names changed and to be rightfully recognized as having been a war veteran.

He was successful last year. For many years he has lived on a meager income.

Substitute Move For Proposed Gift To the Red Cross

Reaching of Compromise Is Reaffirmed by Senate Leaders Saturday

DEADLOCK IS ENDED

Threat of Extra Session Fades as Administration Gives In

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Despite evidence of rebellion against the drouth compromise which are taking form within the senate coalition ranks, Democratic leaders repeated Saturday that the agreement for a $26,000,000 loan fund for agriculture rehabilitation is entirely acceptable. Senators Robinson and Caraway expressed the opinion that food loans could be made satisfactorily under the compromise agreement.

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The South and West appear to have won their battle for a food appropriation from the federal government in behalf of drouth sufferers throughout the agricultural districts of America.

The deadlock, which for a time threatened to throw congress into a special session, was broken late Friday when the proposed $26,000,000 appropriation for the Red Cross was withdrawn in favor of an additional $20,000,000 for human food to be added to the regular drouth relief loans, raising the total from $45,000,000 to $65,000,000.

Robinson Wins
Proposed by Senator Robinson (Dem., Ark.), and his Democratic and Western Republican cohorts, the compromise measure found favor with the Republican house leaders, and was believed to be endorsed also by President Hoover.

As a result, the administration's machine in the house will take up the new proposal, the insurance senate will withdraw its opposition to the regular appropriation measures—which it had previously tied up on the threat of forcing an extra session if the administration did not back down from its position against the granting of loans for human food.

Senator Robinson made this statement as to the probable effect of the compromise:

"I believe loans will be made for the purpose of buying food incident to crop production. The language is broad enough to comprehend any purpose."

G. O. P. Statement
In the house, the Republican leader Representative Tilson said:

"This plan gets away from all ideas of a gratuity, or a dole or charity, because every dollar advanced on the loans will be secured. The secretary of agriculture would have discretionary power as to the loans."

Senator Borah, Idaho Republican, who stood up shoulder to shoulder with the Democrats in the demand for human food loans, said:

"I don't care what the particular language may be, but I don't want any doubt about food being covered."

Airplane Will Replace Broncs on His Ranch

DUFF, Neb.—(AP)—A trim sport model airplane will soon replace the traditional cow-pony for riding drift fences and "spotting" cattle on the W. J. Shanks ranch near here.

Shanks, who operates extensive ranch interests in this section of Nebraska, has purchased a plane and is now learning to fly it. As soon as he has completed the flying time, he intends to use the plane for inspecting fences, hunting stray cattle and for general supervision of his ranch.

Tree Grows Around Old Pipe in Trunk

TACOMA.—(AP)—When A. R. Cul-tivan picked up a piece of wood to throw in his stove, he thought for a moment that he had discovered a mysterious pipe-tree or possibly some Italian briar that nature had fashioned into the actual shape of a pipe.

Close examination disclosed, however, that an old pipe had been sealed in the heart of a tree, and that 80 rings had grown around it.

William Bonney, curator of the state historical society, declared that the pipe had probably been placed in a hole in a fir tree nearly 100 years ago by some trappers or hunter.

Through Motor Trails

THE new 1931 road maps of the United States impress you with the vast difference that still exists between the East and the South and Southwest.

All the through highway trails of the East are firmly established. The fortunes of cities and towns in the East, insofar as being on or off the main road concerns them, are already fixed. In many cases their fate was determined generations ago—for mountains and big rivers are powerful factors in guiding the course of the pioneer trail-blazer.

Thus, the modern paved highway back East has in most cases been laid down in the identical path beaten out by the early settlers one hundred and two hundred years ago. The good fortune of cities already on those trails has been reinforced; good roads have brought comparatively little change, or opportunity for new prosperity, to towns that happened to be off the original trails.

But not so here in the Southwest. This is almost level country, with no mountains to bind the major highways to a predetermined course—and with almost unlimited opportunity for making or remarking in certain cities the prosperity that tourist traffic brings.

Here before us is a great road map of the United States.
The thing that strikes our eye is the fact that back East most of the roads have already been paved. The primary and secondary tourist trails are forever fixed. But Arkansas has not yet quite completed its primary system and the secondary routes are hardly begun.

Here, for instance, is an astonishing fact. The straight-est line between Shreveport, La., and Hot Springs and Little Rock, is the highway through Plain Dealing, La., Lewisville and Hope. It is about 30 miles shorter than any existing route between the North Louisiana city and the Central Arkansas points.

Obviously we should bend every effort to see that this traffic route is given a modern surfacing at the earliest moment. It is graveled all the way from Hope to Benton, La., and paved from there to Shreveport. At Hope, No. 67, the major paved road of Arkansas, will carry traffic northeast to Prescott, Gurdon, and Arkadelphia; thence to Hot Springs; or by way of Donaldson and Malvern, into Little Rock.

Or an optional route to Hot Springs is by way of Nashville, Murfreesboro and Glenwood, only five miles farther, and still much the shortest route from Shreveport to the health resort.

We shouldn't forget the opportunity such a tourist trail brings to us. Those American cities that have had tourist life constantly throbbing through them, have pushed onward and upward; and they have carried their farmlands forward too.

We need to be sure that our road from Kirby, where the present "black-top" surfacing from Hot Springs comes to an end, is continued down to Murfreesboro, Nashville and Hope, and from here through Lewisville to the Louisiana line.

Louisiana, we are told, is planning to extend its concrete pavement from Benton north to the Arkansas boundary.
Louisiana is already well acquainted with this new short route into Central Arkansas—and we should be equally anxious to make this tourist road second to none.

A Season of Earthquake

EARTHQUAKES have been so numerous and so widely scattered in recent weeks that those who reside in what are normally considered "earthquake zones" must be uneasily watchful for signs of disturbance.

New Zealand is the latest place to suffer a quake and apparently the one which occurred there is the most serious of the series, at least so far as loss of life is concerned. The full story isn't available as yet, but it appears that hundreds of persons have been killed at Napier and other communities of North Island in the New Zealand group.

The New Zealand island group has several active volcanoes and is presumably familiar with seismic disturbances.
Although this may be counted upon to find the island population equal to the emergency it creates, for New Zealanders are a progressive, enlightened people, whose success in government has been remarkably demonstrated by the strides which the natives have made toward civilization and by the experimental steps in social legislation, in much of which
New Zealand has been a pioneer.—Jonesboro Sun.

Tomatoes, Etc.

WITH tomatoes decreed "toe-may-toes" and been ordered "bin," not "bean," we are led to say so far so good in the Columbia chain's efforts to straighten out the pronunciation tangle in broadcasting. Selection of Dr. Vizetelly, an avowed opponent of the Oxford accent, to conduct an elocution school, is a good beginning. However, on the enterprise as a whole, we shall suspend judgment until there is a deportation ruling for "eyether" and "nighther." That will prove whether or not they really mean business.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

When we hear a man boast that no woman ever made a fool out of him we pause once more to marvel at the accomplishments of some men.

The thing that threatens to force President Hoover to call a special session is the possibility that the appropriation bills won't be passed, leaving government departments without money on which to operate.

The Senate has been finding plenty of points for debate besides appropriation bills and that raises the point of physical limitations as to whether the appropriation bills can be passed if such debate goes on and the argumentative point whether the other matters are of sufficient import to warrant delay at the expense of a special session.

Some of the subjects which have been taking up time are the debates on drought suffering and unemployment, the confirmations of three federal power commissioners and of Eugene Meyer to the Federal Reserve Board, Indian affairs administration—in connection with an appropriation measure, the Wicker-ham report, maternity and infancy legislation, the Nye investigation of senatorial campaign expenditures, and Tom Heflin's charges of fraud in his defeat for re-election. The Indians have been given an especially large amount of time.

SENATOR LAWRENCE C.
PHILIPS of Colorado, who is said to be worth something like $50,000,000, was one of those barred from the concert of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra the other night when he arrived with some ladies and sought to enter the hall after the overture had begun. The senator was told that he couldn't enter until intermission, when the best part of the concert would be over. A music critic who heatedly joined him in protest was threatened with ejection. Senator Phillips refused to wait for intermission and left.

CONGRESS fixed the legal alcoholic content on non-intoxicating beverages at one-half of 1 per cent, but the point has been debated ever since. Professor Vandell Henderson, professor of applied physiology at Yale, says this:

"No beverage which in common usage is drunk only in such amounts that not more than the equivalent of 80 cubic centimeters of absolute alcohol is absorbed into the blood in an hour can properly be denominated as intoxicating."

Few persons care to drink half a gallon of beer in an hour, Dr. Henderson says, and hence according to his definition beer containing 3 or 4 per cent alcohol by volume is not intoxicating, even if the consumer drinks half a gallon an hour for several hours in succession.

Professor Henderson made these assertions in answer to query from the Yale Daily News. Senator Bingham of Connecticut has placed his article in the Congressional Record.

JUST to remind you how small the world is getting:

Mr. Claude Watkins, proprietor of the New Central Hotel at Maysville, Ky., read in a newspaper about 2 o'clock in the afternoon that his daughter had been injured in an automobile accident at Rome, Italy,
a few hours previously.

He put in a telephone call for the American consulate at Rome and at 2 o'clock was talking with Vice Consul Donald Wilcox.

Mr. Wilcox said he knew all about the accident, that the hotel man's daughter was not seriously injured and that he would see she had every attention. He promised to cable later news and Watkins had the cablegram before 6 p. m.

Watkins wrote the State Department a letter of appreciation.

Well, said the department people, proud of the foreign service, things often happen like that.

In New Zealand Earthquake Zone

Smoking geysers in New Zealand give warning of the ever-present menace of earthquakes. Famous Karapiti Bloehole, pictured above, is in the central region of North Island where fierce tremors are reported to have taken a heavy toll of life and property. In the town of Napier, near by, more than a hundred persons were estimated to have been killed and hundreds of buildings destroyed by the triple scourge of earthquake, fire and tidal wave.

torical society.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

A Basketball Crowd

FIFTEEN THOUSAND people gathered in Madison Square Garden the other night to see six college teams play basketball. The teams were Columbia, Fordham, St.
John's, Manhattan, New York U.
and City College of New York.
That's a big crowd for a basketball game in New York City, but when Indiana holds its state high school championship tournament in March, you will hear of bigger crowds than that.

Some Old Faces

BOB LE GENDRE, whose jump of 25 feet 6 inches in the Olympic games of 1924 at Paris, was one of the great thrills of the sports' decade that closed with 1930, died at 34 years of age the other day after a short struggle with pneumonia.
Some of his friends say his heart had been strained by the arduous athletics in which he took part, and when the sudden emergency of a battle with pneumonia occurred he didn't have the resistance to shake it off.

But just a few days before Le Gendre's sudden death, another familiar sports figure of another day hopped back into the picture.
You may or may not remember him
—Hal Osborn—and now he is Professor Harold M. Osborn, Virginia
Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, Va.

Professor Osborn, who is 32 years old now, set world records for the high jump at about the time when Le Gendre was doing great things.
The other night over in Brooklyn, just to show that he is still a spry young fellow, Osborn high-jumped 6 feet 6 inches, within a quarter of an inch of the world indoor record he set himself six years ago.

The Record Stands

Throne Forsaken

So they Could Wed

A mere throne doesn't seem to count where love is concerned. Prince Lenart (below), grandson of King Gustav of Sweden, has renounced his right of succession to the regency in order to marry a commoner, Miss Karin Nissavandt (above), daughter of a Stockholm capitalist. They are to attend school for a couple of more years before their wedding, however.

Prohibition Arrests Drop

MUSKOGEE, Okla.—(U.P.)—Federal prohibition arrests in the 31 counties in the eastern Oklahoma district have declined steadily during the past two per cent. William F. Rampendahl, acting United States district attorney said. The announcement was made after Rampendahl had studied the Wickersham report.

Fasted For Jobless

DETROIT.—(U.P.)—Herbert A. Blum, desiring to contribute something to the unemployed and needy, hit upon the idea of fasting a week and giving the $5 he would have spent for food to charity. Blum has undergone the fast twice. The second time he lost 18 pounds in the seven days.

Smile, and the world smiles with you; "Knock," and you go it alone; For the cheerful grin will let you in Where the "Knocker" is never known.

Grown, and the way looks dreary; Laugh, and the path is bright; For a welcome smile brings sunshine, While a frown shuts out the light.

Hustle! and fortune awaits you; Shirk, and defeat is sure; For there's no chance of deliverance For the chap who can't endure!

Mines Adops Safety Helmets For Workers

SHENANDOAH, Pa., (AP)—Safety helmets have been introduced into the mining industry as a means of protecting workers from objects falling from the top of the gangways and breasts.

The helmets were in use in Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company operations, with 2,500 of them used in the first consignment, distributed among several collieries.

Several types of "hard boiled hats" were reported practical and the company offered them to workers at cost.

Kaye Don in 107-Mile-an-Hour Test Run

Undaunted by the grim fate which overtook Sir Henry Segrave in the speedboat Miss England II, Kaye Don, English speed pilot, is pictured above as he drove the rebuilt craft to an unofficial world's record of 107 miles an hour in the choppy waters off Belfast, Ireland. Sir Henry was drowned when the boat sank in Lake Windermere, England, a year ago. Don will take the speedster to Buenos Aires for an official try at the record and later will challenge Gar Wood of America for the international trophy in the August contests at Detroit.

Where Quake, Tidal Wave and Fire Killed Many

The waterfront of the town of Napier, in New Zealand, where earthquake, fire and tidal wave combined to kill numbers of persons in one of the most unusual disasters in recent history, is shown at the right. The quake toppled part of the high cliff into the sea, the town caught on fire, the water in the bay receded until the bottom was visible and then rushed back in a tidal wave. The map shows the location and also the towns of Gisborne and Rotorua, where first reporters said heavy losses had been sustained.
